STÖCKL PILS

In 1842 a bottom fermented beer speciality was brewed in Pilsen, which was part of Austria at that time. We have made it our task to brew this beer speciality according to the original 3 mashing method. The Pils on offer in many countries today often has nothing in common with the original from 1842. Close your eyes when tasting our Pils and you'll know what it was like in days gone by.

STÖCKL MÄRZEN

This bottom fermented beer was originally created in 1841 and started out on its successful journey around the world.

This beer has a reddish, amber hue, is brewed using the decoction mashing method and has become the measure of all beers world-wide. In keeping with the tradition of 1841, we brew this beer speciality for our guests using the 2 mashing method.

WIENER HELLES 1924

This typical bottom fermented lager is particularly mild and palatable – the ideal beer for all those who love a beer with a low bitter value. This beer has a pure and fruity flavour and is brewed using the 2 mashing method – a beer for adults of all ages.

STÖCKL WEIZEN

The quality of this top fermented, Bavarian beer speciality is unique to Austria. Normally weizenbier is brewed using a short fermenting process, but Stöckl im Park has chosen to stick to the traditional, old brewing process. Because the yeast for weizenbier has an important role to play, we only use original yeast from a renowned Bavarian brewery.

BOHEMIAN MIXED

Those who find dark beer rather too strong love this old Austrian beer speciality. Brewed using dark malt (without caramel colouring) using the traditional 2 mashing method.

All of our beers are unfiltered - natural and unpasteurized!
